With the version 3.0 of the Software, you can update the publication of theses or use the all-powerful customization of the layout. With this option, you will not have more or less pages than previously, you will have only pages whose design is more adapted to your needs. You can easily modify the design of your pages, insert or delete or move the column if you want or change their dimensions. By doing this, it's up to you to make the pages as you want them. You can also re-use and publish many pages that you already did with the previous version. But, also, you can also download parts of the pages that you like for your own needs, in an instant and by pressing on a button. The problem of limited space is no longer, because it is possible to give importance to the design, without forgetting that you have to use the available space. This format is very compatible with the principal EPUB books. You can convert it in the most popular formats such as e-book, Pdf or epub. The conversions are then made automatically by the software. The link to see the full format page is: The same page with a 4k image: With the PRO version, the pages are good for reading on any electronic devices. The pages are easily read and navigable thanks to the search engine built in the format. You can easily recognize the page you are following. Search engines ----- One of the most important capabilities of the new software, is the embedding of search engines in the form of a grid. You can easily navigate the pages with search engines such as: Google, Baidu, DuckDuckGo, Yandex... You have to make the search engines available to you and to work in the most favorable conditions. Therefore, you can start by configuring your preferences in the "Preferences" menu. "Search engines", in the program, allow you to manage the search engines and to make the best. Search engines can also be embedded in the form of a Google Drive, allowing you to access to documents and spreadsheets you may use for your work. It is also possible to set the minimum length of the query 82157476af
